

AI reality Check

We assess whether your brand, products, and systems are ready for AI Search and AI Commerce.

From Prompt to Purchase

AI is changing the rules of commerce. Intelligent agents and AI-powered systems are increasingly taking over product discovery, comparison, and purchase decisions. Our analysis shows how visible, decision-ready, and technically prepared your brand is for this new commerce reality, while identifying concrete areas for action to drive future growth.

AI visibility & GEO

We assess your visibility in AI Search and evaluate the accessibility and relevance of your content.

product intelligence

We assess whether your product data provide enough context for AI systems to compare products and make relevant recommendations.

content & technology

We assess whether your content, services, and purchase journeys are available in a structured, machine-readable format.

Paid AI visibility

Build early experience with paid AI visibility and emerging advertising formats.

Sophie von dem Bussche

Senior Business Development Manager

Carina Müller

General Manager Commerce

Three questions define AI Commerce

Are you being found?

Are your brand, content, and products being discovered by AI systems and recognized as relevant sources?

Are you being recommended? Do your product data provide enough context for AI systems to compare products and match them to relevant needs?

Can transactions happen?

Can your systems provide up-to-date content, services, and purchase paths in a structured, machine-readable format?

Our Offer

AI Reality Check
from €4,500*

Tailored to your specific business challenge.*

Book a Meeting

Contact

request@house-of-communication.com

House of Communication | Friedenstr. 24 | Munich